BECAUSE it was premeditated as declared war by Italy on Ethiopia was condemned as a violation of the Covenant of the League of Nations and virtually declared that fifty-four nations now against which economic and financial sanctions will be applied. That was decided at Geneva by members of the league at a memorable meeting. It is to be effective November 18. Three nations—Austria and Hungary—refused to subscribe against Italy. The United States, not a member of the league, is not involved.

Baron Aloisi

Baron Aloisi, Italian delegate, declared that Italy would withdraw from the league if sanctions were applied. He said Italy was not at war with Ethiopia, but was merely "restoring peace and order" in that country. Three days after the vote Italy declared that the sanctions would not affect her military operations in Ethiopia.

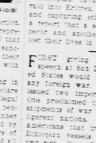
Further sanctions in the form of economic and financial measures against Italy were considered at a session of the League Council in London. Three days after the Geneva meeting Italy declared that the sanctions would not affect her military operations in Ethiopia.

Fighting continued in the Ethiopian war zone, with Italian forces pushing forward on the northern front and Ethiopians reported massing for a counter-attack. Premier Mussolini declared that Italy would not withdraw from Ethiopia, and Emperor Haile Selassie declared that Ethiopia would fight to the last man.

UNANIMOUS confirmation of the New Jersey court of pardons of Bruno Hauptmann for the murder of the Lindbergh baby was the decision of the state supreme court. Hauptmann was convicted and sentenced to die in the electric chair. Governor Hoffman of New Jersey set January 17 as the date of execution.



Bruno Hauptmann

Evidence and that of the defense was presented to the court of pardons by attorneys for the state and for Hauptmann. Defense Attorney Reilly declared that Hauptmann was convicted on circumstantial evidence and that the verdict was the result of public clamor. He said Hauptmann was innocent and that the state's case was built on "perjury, conjecture and suspicion."

Governor Hoffman announced that Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh would not appear before the pardons court. Mrs. Lindbergh had been asked to appear by Hauptmann's attorneys.

Following the court's decision Governor Hoffman said: "I have given this case the most careful consideration. I have studied the evidence and the law. I have read the briefs and arguments of counsel.
